COUNCIL NAMES JACK LONG DAILY EDITOR, SETS TWO TENTATIVE DATES FOR SPARDI GRAS DAY; ARTHUR INMAN RESIGNS FROM RULING BODY

Headed by the appointment of Jack Long as Spartan Daily editor for this quarter, the Student Council brought its business up to date in a short two-hour session held in the Student Union last night. Long is a senior journalism major from Healdsburg, serving as associate editor the past quarter, and feature editor in the fall session.

Arthur Inman, leaving with the ERC Friday, resigned from the council. He also served as business manager of the Spartan Daily the past two quarters.

Setting May 23 and June 4 as tentative dates, the student rulers voted to hold Spardi Gras this year. As an added feature, a party honoring the remaining Reserves will be held in conjunction with the annual festive affair.

Orlyn Gire was appointed chairman with Hugh Manley and Jane Reed being named as co-assistant chairmen. Gire was assistant chairman last year while the others served on the Spardi Gras committee.

Foreseeing a few curtailments on some of the student body activities for next year the council set a new low student body card price of $11 for the 1943-1944 year.

Upon the recommendation of resigning Chief Justice Francis Stoffels, Alice Lee Freeman was appointed to succeed him, and Paulamae Eder was named to succeed Miss Freeman as junior judge. However, an additional male junior judge appointment will have to be made as Marshall Kelley, the present office-holder, tended his resignation. He is also leaving Friday.

Feeling that nothing could be gained by a Gripe Dinner this quarter, it was voted to cancel it.

Upon the recommendation of Glen "Tiny" Hartranft, head of the Men's Physical Education department, awards were voted to the boxing team. Varsity honors went to Stan Smith, Jim Johnson, Tony Lovaglia, Bob Creighton, Don Haas, Bob Mason, Frank Thomas, George Thomas, and Chet Young.

Freshmen numerals were won by Wayne Fontes, Swede Hensley and Pete Mayer. On the service honor list were Jack Breslin, Charles Cook, John Desalernos, Orlyn Gire, and Bob Montilla.

Must Obtain Cards

All men in Navy V-1 and V-7 reserves who have not received their identification cards from Mrs. Louise Ralph in the Dean of Men's office should obtain them immediately, Mrs. Ralph advised yesterday.

Hatlen Announces New Male Cast For Play, 'Arsenic And Old Lace'

With the help of the armed forces rather than with their usual method of serving elderberry wine with arsenic, the two charming but deadly aunts of the play, "Arsenic and Old Lace," have almost succeeded in completely eliminating all the male members of the cast. However, Director Ted Hatlen of the Speech department has already announced a new group of men to supplant the losses; consequently the rehearsals for the play, which is to be presented April 29, 30 and May 1, are being resumed this week.

With the hope that his new actor recruits will not suffer the same fate as their predecessors, Hatlen has selected Jack Hume to play Jonathan, the homicidally inclined brother of the Brewster sisters; Bill Kidwell to play Teddy Brewster, the other brother, who believes himself Teddy Roosevelt; Milt Brietzke, Dr. Einstein, Jonathan's morbid and drunken accomplice; Delwyn Carlson, Mr. Witherspoon, the head of an institute for the criminally insane; Derrell

Bond, Officer O'Hara; Ed Ropolo, a policeman.

Hume replaces Jack Miller; Kidwell will take the place of Director Hatlen himself; Brietzke is to enact the part that Bert Holland had.

Other members of the cast include Alice Modry as Abby, Eleanor Wagner as Martha, Harrison McCreath as Mortimer, the young nephew; Jeanette Thimann as Elaine Harper, Mortimer's fiancée; Keith Thomas as the Reverend Dr. Harper.

The plot of the play concerns the antics of the two maiden aunts, Abby and Martha, who imagine they are doing humanity a kindness by poisoning all the old lonely men they can induce into their cheerful home. When the curtain of the first act goes up, the sweet old girls have already buried 12 victims in the cellar. The nephew, Mortimer, is the bewildered hero of the play who tries desperately throughout the play to keep his aunts from being committed to an institution.

Peter Mingrone of the Speech department will be technical director of the production.

Phi Mu Alpha To Hold Chapter Day Concert Sunday

One of the much anticipated annual musical affairs at San Jose State is the Phi Mu Alpha Chapter Day Concert, occurring this year on Sunday afternoon, April 12, at 3 o'clock in the Little Theater.

This affair is to commemorate the founding of the music fraternity on April 1, 1929. Its members try to hold it as near to this date as possible, but this year, because 12 members are leaving for military service, the concert was postponed until Sunday.

Featured at the concert will be Benning Dexter, piano soloist. Mr. Dexter is piano instructor of San Jose State. Another main event is a repeat performance of the Mozart Horn Concerto in E flat played by Caswell Neal. Neal played this difficult selection at the Symphony Orchestra concert last quarter, and the reception was so overwhelming that he has consented to play it once more.

SOPH PRINCESS IS 'HOP' FEATURE

Special attraction of the 1943 Sophomore Hop, scheduled for April 17, will be the election of a sophomore princess to reign for the evening, announces Dance Chairman Dorothy Flanagan.

Selection of the princess will be made from candidates nominated by the members of the on-campus fraternities and sororities. Miss Flanagan urges all groups to select their choice for princess as soon as possible. The only restriction is that the prospective princess must be a member of the sophomore class. Balloting will commence Thursday.

Theme of the hop will be "Over the Rainbow," and decorations will follow a rainbow scheme. Jack Costello is to have charge of the decorations. Site of the dance will be the Men's gym.

The dance will be semi-formal with suits and afternoon dresses as appropriate attire. Men are urged not to wear tuxes, and cor-sages will not be in order.

CLASS SCHEDULE SHORTENED FOR VOTING AND MEETINGS TODAY; POLLS OPEN IN FRONT OF MORRIS DAILEY AUDITORIUM AT 10:24 A. M.

Members of Sparta's four classes will march to the polls today to elect their class officers for the spring quarter. Voting will be held immediately after class meetings scheduled for 9:46 this morning.

Prospective candidates will be introduced in the meetings. Election Judge Marvin Zemanek announced yesterday that only candidates whose names have already been submitted with the required signed petitions will be eligible to run for office.

Kappa's Open House For ERC Men Today At 2

For an afternoon of fun, all ERC men are invited to attend the Kappa Kappa Sigma open-house from 2 to 5 o'clock in the Student Union. Besides an entertainment program which will present highlights of the college year, there will be refreshments for all.

Marjorie Adams, in charge of the entertainment committee, has planned a program that will be of special interest to ERC men and their friends, as the acts will include activities taken from campus life and Revelries. Some of the acts include Dana Lee Trimble, Stanley Hollingsworth, Marjorie Black, and Hal Sonntag.

Sandwiches, cakes, cookies, and cakes will be served on one side of the Student Union, while the other will be set aside for dancing. Records will be furnished by the Kappa girls. If an ERCer wishes, he may bring his own date, but the Kappa girls will be on hand throughout the whole afternoon as the hostesses. Faculty members have been sent invitations providing reserves a chance to talk informally with them.

"All the fellows may drop in any time to our open-house, and they may bring their own dates, but the Kappa girls will be glad to entertain any of the men who come," states Marjorie Adams, program chairman.

Other chairmen are: Elyse Bartenstein, refreshments; Lorraine Titcomb, general chairman; and Mary Lou Montgomery, assistant chairman.

ALPHA PHI OMEGA TO CROWN 'UGLY' MAN AT BALL

Half of the net proceeds of Alpha Phi Omega's Coronation Ball, to be held from 9 to 1 in the San Jose Women's club Friday night, will go to the Minssen scholarship fund along with the $132.55 collected during the Ugly Man contest last quarter.

Bids for the dance honoring John Ehrismann, "Ugliest Man at State", are now on sale in the Controller's office for 55 cents. Ehrismann was called to active duty last week with the Signal Corps, and Danny Cohen will accept the crown in the absence of the winner. Cohen served as Ehrismann's campaign booster.

Presentation of the money will be made during the program by Fraternity President Tom Hosley. Also scheduled for the intermission program is vocalist John Phillips and the DSG "male striptease chorus".

Nominations will be made from the floor. Each nominator and candidate will be asked to give a short nomination and platform speech.

Zemanek stated that 34 students have signified their wishes to run for class offices. Of the 34 candidates, only 11 are men. The Senior class alone is holding up the tradition of having a majority of male office-seekers with six men candidates as against five for the women. On the other extreme is the Junior class which boasts of an all-girl ballot. The Freshmen are running only one man in the 10-candidate field, and the Sophomores have four nominees of each.

Class meetings will be conducted under the direction of members of the Student Council. Conducting the Freshman meeting will be Arthur "Babe" Inman. The Frosh are scheduled to convene in the Morris Dailey auditorium. Taking charge of the Sophomore meeting in room 210 of the Science building will be Councilman Irving Gold. Joe Talbot will lead the Junior meeting in room S112. Senior candidates were introduced at the senior orientation class Tuesday.

Polls will be open to student body card holders from 10:24 to 5 o'clock in front of the Morris Dailey auditorium. Assisting in the election will be members of Tau Delta Phi and Spartan Knights.

Today's candidates as submitted by Judge Zemanek:

Women's Co-ops Hold Open House

Open-house will be held at the three on-campus women's cooperatives Sunday, April 11, from 5 to 8 p.m. at Mary Post, 438 South Ninth street; Mary George, 146 South Tenth street, and Grace Hall, 68 South Tenth street.

The open-house is an annual spring event to give faculty, students, and the public in general an idea how cooperatives are run. Sixty girls are at present taking advantage of cooperative living. They not only learn how to run a house, working one hour a day at various jobs such as cooking and cleaning, but also learn how to work concurrently within the house.

DAY EDITOR (this issue) JACQUE JURGENSEN

WE AREN'T KICKIN'

Friday will dawn as all days do. We men of ERC will pass into the Morris Dailey auditorium for our "mashed potato" speeches and prepare ourselves for a new mode of living. Our minds have been swimming in the currents of advice for the new recruit; we have clung, unwilling to release, to those things that we love in civilian life, unwilling to relinquish the "status quo" which seems about to be torn from us.

And now certainty has taken the place of false rumors. Our orders have come, and without an inkling of a doubt, we can assure ourselves that we will be wearing the khaki green of the United States Army by Saturday. Words cannot seem to adequately express our gratitude for the kindness extended us in these last days of our college life. Friends have more than gone out of the way to make things really pleasant; they have made certain that our memories of San Jose State are good, everlasting memories.

So we say thanks to the Chamber of Commerce and USO for the super show they put on for us, thanks to the Kappa Kappa Sigmas for the splendid hostesses that they will be this afternoon at their open-house; thanks to the organizations who have so willingly given farewell parties in our honor, and thanks to the Spartan Knights who are always on hand to serve the student body in every capacity for the final farewell entertainment and food that will be given us Friday afternoon.

We aren't kickin' because we're leaving. You make it easy to go. We don't want soft soap and sobbing at the station either. We want to go with happy memories. Sure, we want to say so-long, but not good-bye. And we want smiles and laughing and fun. Fellow students, do that for us, huh? We understand that the Japs like to die for their country, and we're the guys that will keep them happy. —Nicholson.

"Plant worker" Dorothy Ross will be suitably dressed in heavy blue denim slacks with a matching shirt.

Denise Bradley will be ready for dinner in a black rayon crepe dress edged in black lace, with a feather chapeau.

What's new in evening wear will be shown when Catherine Doane models a printed matlesse formal, with insets of grosgrain ribbon.

SPARTANS TANGLE WITH PORTLAND NINE TODAY

ARMY RESERVISTS DON SPARTAN TOGS FOR LAST TIME AGAINST COAST LEAGUE OUTFIT;
DROP 9 TO 5 TILT TO BEARS YESTERDAY

FILICE AND GOTTSCHANG NAMED TO HURL

Coach Milt Lanyon's horsehiders do battle for the second consecutive day today when they tangle with Manager Merv Shea's powerful Portland Beavers, now spring-training in this city, in the Municipal stadium at 3 p.m.

In Berkeley yesterday, the Spartans dropped a hard-fought 9 to 5 tilt to the Golden Bears from California. The locals, unleashing a powerful attack at the plate, gave the home team a rough time of it, and only a few good breaks decided the game in their favor. Jack Gottschang started on the hill and was relieved by Hal Sonntag in the seventh.

Having the services of the ERC men for the last time this season, Lanyon has nominated Jack Gottschang and Pete "Khaki" Filice to divide the mound chores for the Staters. Other men besides Filice leaving and who will wear the Gold and White for the last time today, are John Urzi, Chuck Kelly, Hal Sonntag, and Hal Sousa.

BEAVERS FAVORED

The Beavers, having been in training for two weeks, probably will be the strongest opposition that the Spartans will face all season. They will be decided favorites in the battle because of the abundance of pitching ability and experience at the plate.

The Portland squad is dotted with a number of well known names in the baseball circles, one of whom is San Jose's Marvin Owen, who was an important cog in Detroit's 1934 world championship outfit.

In the Cal game yesterday, Cyril Taylor was the big gun in the local attack with three hits in four times at bat, one of them a booming triple. Lillio Marcucci also found his hitting eye by driving out a triple and a single in four trips to the platter.

BIG FIFTH INNING

The Spartans were held in tow until the fifth stanza when they banged out five safeties for four runs. Included in this barrage of hits were singles by Duran, Taylor, Ardaiz, Gottschang, and a three-bagger by Marcucci.

California had only a slight edge in the hitting department by slamming out 11 hits to 10 by the locals, but errors provided their advantage in the run column.

Yesterday's game was the first for Abel Rodrigues, transfer from USF, and he showed that he will lend power to the Spartan attack. Although he did not get any hits, he drove out three flies to the outer garden.

Sponsorship Of Saturday's Meet Taken By Stanford

Stanford university notified all interested parties yesterday that it has decided to take over the sponsorship reins of the invitational track meet which San Jose had originally intended to put on this Saturday at Spartan Field. So the meet will be held as planned, but with the locale shifted from here to Angell Field in Palo Alto.

Although track coach "Tiny" Hartranft did not feel it advisable to hold the convocation here, he does plan on entering about 14 of his disciples in the various events.

Probable competitors from the ranks of Spartan thinclads are: Lawton Hay, Elwood Clark, Hal Capers, Vic Cerro, Frank Hallin, Mark Chamberlain, Ray Wride, Floyd Collier, Dick Campion, Bud Veregge, Paul Mallon, Vern Cooley, Ken Horn, and Ernie Ribera.

All in all, approximately a hundred athletes will be on hand, representing most of the nearby colleges and service teams.

Q. What kind of Bonds are War Savings Bonds?

A. They are appreciation Bonds, that is, they are sold on a discount basis. After issue, they increase in value, reaching their full value in 10 years. The increase in value, which you receive when you redeem the Bonds, is the interest on your investment.

Q. How long will War Savings Bonds and Stamps be on sale?

A. No time limit has been set. The sale will continue until it is stopped at the discretion of the Secretary of the Treasury.

Q. Can children purchase War Savings Stamps and Bonds?

By Glib Crockett.

A. Yes. Millions of children are buying them regularly as their share in the national savings program.

Q. Will the Government accept a personal check in payment for a Bond?

A. Yes; subject to collection.

Q. If both coowners of a War Savings Bond die before the Bond is presented for redemption, who gets the money?

A. The estate of the co-owner whose death took place last.

Remember—the longer you keep War Bonds, up to 10 years, the more valuable they become.

SGO ANNEXES INTER-FRAT BASKETBALL CROWN BY BEATING DSG; BETA CHI TAKES OVER SECOND PLACE IN LEAGUE

SGO, by trouncing DSG 39-27 in one of yesterday's inter-fraternity basketball games, cinched the championship of the league, leaving not even a mathematical chance for BCS, who also won, to go into a first-place deadlock.

The titlists wound up their 1943 campaign with a spotless record, registering five consecutive wins and suffering no losses.

Beta Chi is now firmly ensconced in second place, with a won-lost count of 3 and 1, and DSG is in the third spot with 2 wins and 2 losses. The only big argument left in the tournament following yesterday's developments is the fight for runner-up position between these two outfits.

Both of them have one more game to play, and even if DSG wins and Beta Chi loses, the former will have only a tie for second place. If they both lose, or if Beta Chi wins and DSG loses, or if they both win, Beta Chi will maintain its second-best rating.

The SGO-DSG clash, pre-game figured as a close one, turned out to be all, or nearly all, SGO. They took command of the proceedings early in the contest and never were in serious danger.

Their smooth floorwork, the deadly basket eye of George Thomas, and their air-tight defense were too much for the opponents to overcome.

At the half the winners were on the long end of a 23-9 score, and although DSG fought hard to narrow the margin in the last period they could only cut it by 2 points, from 14 to 12.

George Thomas was the individual star of the game, racking up 17 points, and combining this offensive display with some fine defensive work.

DSG's famed duo of Bog Gager and Doug Bacon were kept under control all afternoon, Gager dropping 8 markers through the hoop, and Bacon accounting for the same number. Floyd Collier scored 7 points for the losers.

All Beta Chi had to do to win their game was to put in an appearance on the floor of the Men's gym. APO didn't show up; only one boy was ready to play basketball for the APOmen—so the victory was given to Beta Chi on a default.

GERMANY PUSHED JAPS INTO WAR WITH UNITED STATES TO GAIN FREE HAND IN AGGRESSIONS

By GERRY REYNOLDS

If Germany wanted to keep up her aggressive program and take England, it was necessary that the United States aid to Britain be stopped. So Hitler pushed the Japs into the Pearl Harbor attack, hoping that we would then use all our power and supplies in a war with Japan, and Britain would be without help.

This fact was brought out in Dr. Fred Graham's lecture before the War Aims class yesterday.

Dr. Graham added that for a time the Japs stalled—they had no intention of starting a war with us just to make things easier for Germany. And they were then in the midst of a campaign to take over all of China, much against the will of Great Britain and the United States.

Finally, however, it became clear to Japan that she would either have to submit to the Anglo-American demands to stop aggression, or she would have to submit to an Anglo-American boycott. This latter would mean that her supplies would quickly be depleted, so she decided to start the war with us that Germany was urging.

"The Japs had to strike hard and win quickly in order to keep going without the supplies that the United States had long been sending her," said Dr. Graham.

In the face of Japan's continued march into China even after warnings from the United States that "Jap aggression would be frowned upon," we renounced our old trade treaty with the empire, in 1939. An embargo was expected, but it didn't come.

"In September of 1940, Japan, Germany, and Italy entered into a triple alliance, which was supposed to scare the United States out of helping China and Great Britain," declared Dr. Graham.

However, we didn't scare, although, strangely enough, we were sending large amounts of motor oil, scrap iron, copper, and the like to Japan.

It was these supplies that Japan would miss if an Anglo-American boycott were put into effect.

"In 1940 the Japs moved south, taking Thailand, and in 1941 they were established in Indo China. That year they sent Nomura to the United States to offer a non-aggression treaty, which would keep us from interfering with their moves," stated Dr. Graham. "At the same time, Japan's foreign minister, Matsuoka, was sent to Germany and to Italy, where he strengthened Japanese relations with those countries. On his return home, he visited Moscow, where he made a treaty with Stalin. This gave the Japs a free hand in the Far East, unless Great Britain and the United States went so far as to fight to keep them back."

Then a series of events took place that brought our final entry into the war.

Germany was on her way, she thought, to the building of a strong nation. In 1940 she had taken France; then she tried an air attack on the British Isles, which failed due to the strength of the RAF. This prompted the attack on Russia, and failure in this sector prompted Germany to push the Japs into a war with the United States.

"Hitler's theory was that then we'd be so tied up with Japan that we couldn't interfere with the European program," added Dr. Graham.

Germany's urging, together with Japan's precarious position in relation to England and America, caused her attack on Pearl Harbor.
